Vol. XIX.]

TUESDAY, JULY 7, 1818.

[No. 5272.]

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS and MALIGNANT FEVERS
is recommended.
Hahn's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS
THIS Medicine has been administered with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved
their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak
more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further,
that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.
They are especially adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir.
A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthma, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.
To persons who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative.
Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of Nervous Disorders Violent cramps in Consumptions the stomach and Lowness of spirits back
Loss of appetite Indigestion
Impurity of blood Melancholy
Hysterical affection Gout in the stomach
Inward weakness Pains in the limbs
and debility Relaxations, etc.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.
A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain
in the face and neck, etc.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.
Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or an infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaster.
An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion.
So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free
from corrosive and repellent minerals,
the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes
of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurfs, tetter, ring-
worms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water.
A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of nature weakness, or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops.
The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Lee's Infallible Ague and Fever Drops
For the cure of agues, remittent and intermittent fevers.

At the place of sale pamphlets
may be had gratis, describing cures performed by the above medicines, the number, importance and respectability of which, fully justify every article of this advertisement.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND DAILY ADVERTISER.

PUBLISHED BY
SAMUEL SNOWDEN,
ROYAL STREET.

Daily Gazette 37—Country Gazette 33.

TUESDAY, JULY 7, 1818.

From the Connecticut Courant.

THE FORMIDABLE ATTITUDE OF RUSSIA.

In a sketch of the military and political power of Russia, in the year 1817, ascribed to the pen of sir Robert Wilson, the writer states, that since Alexander came first to the throne, the population of Russia has risen by increase of population and acquisition, from thirty-six to forty-two millions of people; that her territory has been extended on almost every side; that her frontier is distant only about two hundred and fifty miles from Constantinople by water, and three hundred by land, in a direct line; that Persia is at her feet; that a Russian army might sail from the Baltic through an internal navigation from Petersburg to Astracan, and landing on the southern shore of the Caspian, pitch their tents within four hundred miles of the Persian gulf, from whence the voyage to the British settlements in the East Indies, namely, to Bombay, is only from twenty-four to thirty days, in both monsoons; and to Madras but eight or ten days longer in the S. W. monsoon; that, from Kamshadka they have extended to the north-west coast of America, where they have made several establishments, and that since the year 1813, the Russians have descended the American coast, passed the Columbia river five hundred miles and settled in Padoga, only thirty miles from the Spanish establishments in California.

The writer of this sketch proceeds to state that in the year 1790, Russia had a disposable army of only fifty thousand men: In the year 1807, not more than eighty thousand; and in the year 1813, only three hundred thousand on her whole territory; whereas in 1817, she overshadowed both Asia and Europe by the mass of six hundred and forty thousand men.

"The fact is," says the writer, "that Russia, after posting thirty thousand men of appropriate force, with artillery, &c. in Finland, eighty thousand on the frontier of Galicia, sixty thousand in Moldavia, thirty thousand on the frontier of Armenia, as many in Persia, and leaving a reserve of one hundred thousand men to sustain these armies, possesses still a disposable force of above two hundred thousand infantry, eighty thousand cavalry, and one thousand two hundred guns better horsed for service than any artillery or cavalry in the world;—an army, than which there is none more brave, and with which no other can march, starve, or suffer physical privations and natural inclemencies. She has moreover a population equal to the seeded supply, and to a great portion of whom the habits and sufferings of war are familiar, while no power in Europe can raise, equip, or maintain their forces, with such disdain of the price of blood."

The writer having combined a number of the grand particulars, with these abovementioned exclamations, "such is Russia; such has been her gigantic growth within a short century."

Only one century ago, or but little more, Russia was composed of Hordes of boors and barbarians, and was very little respected or noticed by the other nations of Europe; perhaps now she is a full match, if not an overmatch for them, all together. In point of growth, no nation except Russia can bear any comparison with these U. States. To what a pitch of greatness may they not arrive in one century from the present time! But God forbid that their greatness should then consist, like that of Russia, in myriads of infantry and cavalry, in diadems of the price of blood. Be it theirs, on the contrary, to cultivate the arts of peace, and to exhibit a shining example of truly christian morality.

BALEINES.

As perfume affect more strongly other people than those who carry them, so the fallings of others offend us much sooner than our own.

INFANTS.

It is not often our merit that makes us rise, but we seldom fall but by our own fault.

ALEXANDRIA: TUESDAY, JULY 7, 1818.

[Communicated for the Charleston Gaz.]
Extract of a letter from St. Bartholomew, dated May 18, 1818.

"We are all under arms since last night; we have joined admiral Brion's and Aury's fleet; the Spanish fleet are in sight; we are all to quarters, and expect to engage in a couple of hours, and are very willing to fight. Our fleet is as follows:—Brion has one ship of 24 18-pounders, 90 men; two brigs 12 guns each, 2 and 12-pounders, 75 men; three schooners 6 9-pounders, 140 men. Aury has one brig, 18 12-pounders, 120 men; one hermaphrodite do. 6 9-pounders, 45 men; two schooners, 4 9-pounders, 65 men—our brig is 18 18-pounders, 150 men—Total, 87 guns and 685 men.

"The enemy's vessels are as follows: One ship 36 18-pounders, 400 men, (formerly the Young Wasp); one do 24 18 & 12-pounders, 330 men, (formerly the General Scott); three brigs 38 9, 12 and 18 pounders, 450 men; four schooners 46 9 and 12-pounders, 600 men—Total, 144 guns and 1830 men.

"We are certain we shall take them, for they are a miserable set of wretches. If I should escape with my life, I will leave the service, as captain Stafford has joined Brion's fleet; so there will be nothing made, but plenty of hard fighting, such as taking Porto Cabello, La Guira, Porto Rico, &c."

LATEST FROM BORDEAUX.

From the N. Y. Com. Silver, June 30. MINAOT.

The ship Robert, capt. Thomson, which arrived this morning in 36 days from Liverpool, was boarded and plundered on her voyage, by a North American pirate, under a white flag. The following account of this atrocious piracy is furnished by capt. Thomson:

The ship Robert, sailed from Liverpool on Sunday the 3d of May, (in company with the Liverpool Trader, captain Fenno, of and for Boston, parted company off the Rock.) On the 24th of the same month, in lat. 32, 33, long. 22, 20, spoke schr. Olive, capt. Preble, from Richmond to Madeira. On the 29th, at Meridian, discovered a sail bearing west. At 2 P. M. could see she was a schooner with American colors flying. At half past 2 P. M. she hove to and fired a gun for us to lie by; we took in the steering sails and brought to. At a quarter before three she fired a shot at us, although we had hove to and she to the windward. She then bore down on us, lowered the American colors, and hoisted a white flag. Sent his boat to us with orders for the captain to go on board with his papers. The captain sent his first officer with the papers, and upon his arrival on the schooner's deck, the papers were taken from him, and he was confined in the fore-cabin. She then bore down closer, and spoke us, saying if the captain did not come on board he would blow us to the Devil. The captain then ordered the boat to be lowered, and while the hands were employed in lowering the boat, the schr. poured a whole broadside into us, of great guns and small arms. Three shot passed through the sparker, one through the mizen stay-sail, and one into the bends. The captain then went on board and was immediately confined; as was also the boat's crew. An order was then sent to the schooner's people on board the ship to take from us what provisions and cordage they wanted; to cut and destroy; in fact, to do just as they pleased, which orders they executed in a most brutal manner, taking all our provisions, except two barrels beef and five barrels bread. They cut all the running rigging they thought worth taking, with their cutlasses. They robbed the captain of 200 worth of dry goods, 50 guineas belonging to the owners, his gold watch, sextant, telescope, brass compass, and all the steering sail gear, and left the ship in a most deplorable situation. They robbed the stowage passengers of their provisions and the greater part of their clothing, and money, besides treating them very ill, and in Spanish threatening the females.

Besides all the cabin stores, they took also the following articles of merchandise; 3 cases of merchandize belonging to the cargo, marked and numbered as follows; 2 cases W shipped by Messrs.

of heavy rains, which overflowed the Oranoke, Morales fell back to Calabozo. Morillo remained at Valencia, not having entirely recovered from his wounds. About the last of May, the patriots under Bermudas made an attack on Camana, but were repulsed with the loss of 150 or 200 men. At the last accounts, Bolivar, with from four to five thousand men, chiefly blacks, was at Fernandez.

A fleet of merchant vessels left Lagaira for Cadiz on the 10th of June, under convoy of an armed brig. A Spanish government brig which left Lagaira on the 12th for Porto Cabello, had a severe action with a patriot privateer which she beat off. On the 17th of June, colonel Morales, a patriot officer, was led outside the gates of Lagaira, and shot, and his body afterwards suspended on the gallows. On the same day, two others were shot at Valencia, one at Caracas and one at Porto Cabello. They were said to have been taken by surprise about the 1st of May, when the patriots lost 3 or 600 men.

Pugh and Astley, of Liverpool, and consigned to Mr. Marshall, or Mr. Wm. Mitchell, at New-York, 1 case W 1231, shipped by the same and consigned to Messrs. Mills, Parry & Co at New-York. They even took captain Borditch's Navigator, Nautical Almanac, Pen Jacket, all the points belonging to the ship, the greater part of the chief officers' clothes, a number of doubletons from one of the stowage passengers, and all the carpenter's tools.

At 8 P. M. the captain, mate and crew were sent on board the ship, when they found her in the above described disabled and plundered state. This act of piracy was committed in lat. 31, 09, long. 32, 09, upon a ship with 74 souls on board. The Pirate was an American pilot built, and black with 2 white streaks on the starboard side, black with one white and one red streak on the larboard side, from 160 to 180 tons. She reported herself a Patriotic vessel, 3 weeks from Buenos Ayres, commanded by a mulatto looking man, supposed to be a Spaniard, named Peters. She was coppered to light water mark, and was named by them the Patriot. June 12, in lat 33, 44, long 45, 57, spoke the English ship Harvey, capt. Rockman and got some bread and meat from him. June 14, in lat 36, 57, long 56, 25, spoke the brig Eliza capt. Kean, 7 days from Philad. to Madeira; got some bread and meat from him.

From the same, July 1. PENACOLA.
An esteemed friend has put us in possession of a general order issued by Gen. Jackson, after the capture of Pensacola and the Spanish fort at Barancas. By this official document, it will be seen, that Gen. Jackson has left Col. King in command of Pensacola and its dependencies until otherwise ordered by Gen. Gaines. Since the above was in type, we have received by the arrival of the schr. Nassau, a file of Mobile papers to the 10th of June, from which we have copied several articles relating to the capture of Pensacola. By the same arrival we learn, that the schrs. Washington and Peggy were chartered to convey the Spanish troops from Pensacola to the Havana.

HALF-TON—EXTRA.
St. Stephens, July 3.
By the politeness of Dr. Bronaugh, one of Gen. Jackson's staff, who reached this place last evening, we are enabled to lay before our readers the following general order. The laws of the United States are in full force at Pensacola—a custom house established; and captain Gasden appointed collector.

Head Quarters, Division of the South, Adjutant General's Office, Barancas, May 29, 1818.
Fellow Soldiers,
You were called into the field to punish savages and negroes, who had in a sanguinary manner, upon the tomahawk and scalping knife, used our helpless citizens on the frontier. You have pursued them to Mikisiky, St. Marks, Sewanee, and lately to this place, through an unexplored wilderness, encountering immense difficulties and privations, which you met, with the spirit of American soldiers, without a murmur. Your General anticipated a close of the campaign on his return to Fort Gadsden; and hailed the hour with feelings of gratitude to Heaven at the prospect of relieving you from your labours, by placing you in quarters, and returning you to your homes. But how great was the disappointment, when he heard of the recent murders committed on the Alabama, by a party of the enemy from Pensacola, where they were furnished with provisions and ammunition by a friendly power. Under this state of things, you were marched here, encountering difficulties which you alone can properly appreciate. Meeting on the way the protest of the Governor of West Florida, threatening to employ force if we did not immediately evacuate the country; this new and unexpected enemy was soon taught to feel the impotence of his threats. You entered Pensacola without opposition, and the strong fortress of the Barancas could hold out one day against your determined courage. Your General cannot help admiring the spirit and military zeal manifested, when it was signified, that a resort to storming would be necessary, and would do injustice to his own feelings did he not particularly notice the judgment displayed by his aid de-camp, Capt. Gasden, of engineers, in the selection of the positions for the batteries, and the gallantry of his second aid, capt. Call, and capt. Young, of the topographical engineers, in aiding him to erect the works, under the fire of heavy batteries, within four hundred yards; as well as the skill and gallantry of capt. Peters, lieuts. Minton and Spencer, in the direction and management of the vine powder, and that of Lieuts. Sand and Scallan, charged with the management of the howitzer.

Capt. McKee, of the navy, merits (as he has on several occasions) my warmest thanks for his zealous co-operation and activity in landing two of his guns, (should an additional battering train have been necessary) and gallantly offering to lay his vessel before the water battery, in the event of storming the place.

A volume of Travels has recently been published, under the title of 'A Journey to Rome and Naples, performed in 1817, by Henry Shaw'—from which we have extracted the following account of the author's visit to Pompeii.

"On our descent from Vesuvius, we proceeded to Pompeii, about eight miles from Portico. In advancing to it, we passed through Torre del Greco, which is partly in ruins from a late eruption. We alighted, and were at once introduced into what appeared a fairy city, whose inhabitants by some charm had disappeared. With breathless impatience, and light steps, as if fearful of disturbing the genius of the place, we tripped over the ground, peering into their chambers, temples, and theatres; at times admiring the beauty of the painting, the symmetry of the statue, the elegance of the architecture, or the convenience of the apartment. We then ran along the streets, glancing at the shops on each side, still with the feeling that we were intruders, and at last gave ourselves up to the enjoyment of the surrounding objects. An ecstatic feeling possessed us in this city; which after being buried for near eighteen centuries, seems to have been refound but to delight the eyes. Dispersing ourselves, we again discovered each other, from a window, the top of a theatre, or seated in one of the shops, or the voice issuing from a chamber underneath.

The first place we entered was a space adorned with columns, called the barracks—on the walls may be seen writing, &c. We examined in succession, a small and large theatre, a temple of Isis, one of Esculapius, a Greek temple, school, the study of a sculptor, and the walls of a city. We afterwards passed over a large tract of ground covered with vines, under which the greater part of the city still remains buried, to the further side, where there is a magnificent amphitheatre, not so large as the Colosseum, but much more perfect. The interior of the arena, the corridors, &c. are embellished with paintings. It appears to have been built in a hollow, the ground which surrounds it approaching very near to the top; and we descended to the arena by arcades regularly paved. It takes the usual form of an oval. Returning, we entered the Forum. It is beautiful, with that of the surrounding buildings, although stripped of their ornaments, delighted us. There is not simplicity and good proportion in the architecture. Its temples are lovely, displaying the Grecian Doric, Ionic, and Corinthian orders in their simplest form. The tribune of the latter order is magnificent. Statues of the Consuls, celestial horses, &c. in bronze, once adorned this place.

We next visited the habitation of Silius—and although we could have wished it to have belonged to a more virtuous character, yet we took great pleasure in examining the apartment. Throughout the house, there is an air of luxury; the rooms are elegantly painted, the mosaic and various richly coloured marble which ornament the floors are arranged with much taste. The bath, in particular arrested our attention. In different compartments are paintings of Diana and Acteon, Europa and Jove, Mars and Venus with ornamental figures. The floor of this chamber displayed the richest marbles dispersed in various shapes of fruit, flowers, and birds. A large family mansion was another object of our curiosity. All its various objects are subterranean. We descended to them and saw the wine pitchers ranged in a row, and various utensils.

The streets are narrow, but there are raised paths on each side for foot passengers. Within the curbstones is made work; but the carriage way is paved with large flat stones of unequal size fitted to each other. The shops are numerous, many still discovering their former occupations. An apothecary's tavern, and one for the sale of liquor of some kind, are the most conspicuous. The counters of these shops are inlaid with colored marble; and the counter which joins them is still so strong, as to prevent their being removed without the application of great force. The doors on the outside of the gate which forms Herculaneum are adorned with marble, which appear as if only just erected, though in a much better taste than those of the present times.

To wander thus in the streets of the ancient Romans; to visit their chambers, their shops, their baths; to examine their furniture, utensils, &c.—to admire their paintings, statues, and the elegance of their temples, would be a daily task for many months. We were so captivated with this scene of enchantment, that this city was overwhelmed with a time with Herculaneum (A. D. 79) it excites our surprise, when we see how little it is hidden, that it was not discovered at an earlier period.

BILL IN CHANCERY.

Robert Perry

versus

James B. Dunnington, Robert Dunnington, Francis Taylor and Elizabeth B. his wife, James Bloxham and Catharine his wife, William Simmons and Esther his wife, heirs of William Dunnington.

THE complainant alleged in his bill that the Respondents have in possession the real estate of their deceased father Wm. Dunnington, whose personal estate was not sufficient for the payment of his debts. Wm. Dunnington's estate is indebted to the complainant in a large sum of money. The object of the bill is to procure a decree for the sale of the land, for the payment of the debts remaining unpaid by the personal estate. Some of the heirs of Wm. Dunnington are non-residents. It is thereupon, at motion of the complainant, ordered that he cause a copy of this order to be inserted in the Alexandria Gazette for the space of three months, to the intent that the absent defendants may have notice of this application, and of the subject and object of the bill, and may be warned to appear in this court in person or by a solicitor, to shew cause, if any there be, why a decree should not pass as prayed. Teste.
